

Workshop Title	Leadership and Communication
Workshop Description	An effective leader is able to encourage, lead and motivate a team to achieve organisational goals effectively and timeously. This workshop seeks to equip leaders with the necessary tools required to communicate effectively with teams. Delegates will learn how to harness the individual strengths of team members and how to utilise these in a manner that is beneficial to both the team members and the organisation as an entity. The workshop looks at leadership in the modern world, leadership models, styles and traits that make good leaders. The workshop also covers aspects of motivation, change management, self-management and emotional intelligence.
